

Academic discipline of the module "Stylistic and literary editing":
"Literary editing"

Place of the discipline in the structural scheme of the educational program	Bachelor's degree program (General higher education) Specialty: 6-05-0232-02 Russian Philology. Cycle of special disciplines: component of a higher education institution
Summary	Psychological prerequisites for editing. Typology of publications. Text as a subject of the editor's creative work. Editing methodology. Professional editorial reading. Logical foundations of editing. Editing the composition of a work. Types of texts and features of their editing. Types of editorial editing of a text. Methodology for conducting editing. Proofreading. Comprehensive editing of an author's work.
Formed competencies, learning outcomes	As a result of studying the discipline, the student should know: the theoretical foundations of preparing an author's manuscript for publication; the creative process "from the author's manuscript to the printed edition". be able to: professionally and competently make an editorial analysis of the author's work for its social significance; assess the relevance of the topic, the level of its development; determine the verbal and stylistic quality of the text; develop reasonable recommendations to the author for improving the work in the interests of the author and the reader; make the final, theoretically sound editorial revision of the text based on methodological recommendations that determine the boundaries of editorial intervention in the author's text; edit the author's text using modern computer technologies. be proficient in: the methodology of editorial analysis of the author's work; techniques of editorial and proofreading.
Prerequisites	Textual criticism; disciplines of the module "History of Russian Literature"; History of Russian criticism.
Labor intensity	3 credits, 90 academic hours, including 42 classroom hours: 22 hours of lectures and 20 hours of practical classes.
Semester(s), requirements and forms of current and midterm assessment	6th semester, testing, credit.